
"THERE WILL BE ONE FLOCK AND ONE SHEPHERD"

Jn 10:16

seek, share, rejoice - pastor's letter...

Jerry Boland, Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

"There will be one flock and one shepherd"

The Fourth Sunday of Easter is traditionally called Good Shepherd Sunday. This title is because the gospel for this weekend always centers on Jesus as the shepherd, we are his flock. The shepherd looks after his flock and strives to keep them "together".

A constant theme of the Easter season is unity. The first believers had to overcome many obstacles as they came to terms with Our Lord's resurrection and the mandate to proclaim the Good News to everyone. As we follow the narrative of the emerging Church, the community of believers had to deal with those who sought to divide the "flock". By centering their mission on the Risen Christ, they found ways to heal divisions, to include those who had been marginalized and to not let divisive voices threaten the unity of the Body of Christ.

Striving for unity is as much a challenge for the Church of today as it was for the first century Christians. We cannot feed into the politics of division that has so wounded our society.

The shepherd "lays down his life for the sheep". Our Lord suffered crucifixion so that we might live!

Good Shepherd Sunday is also the annual vocations appeal weekend. This weekend the Church around the world prays for a renewed sense of vocation. All of us have a vocation to live out our calling to serve the Lord, the Good Shepherd.

We pray especially for an increase for vocations to religious life. We are blessed with several candidates for the priesthood. Luke Lato is a seminarian at our college seminary. Michael Klatt will be ordained a deacon on May 8. He is currently serving at St. John Brebeuf parish. Antonio Camacho is pursuing his vocation in Ecuador. Our teaching parish seminarians are also a blessing to our parish. Deacon Michael Lingaur will be ordained a priest for the Diocese of Gaylord later this Spring. Jesse Hiett will be ordained a deacon for the Diocese of Springfield-Cape Geraldo. Myles Swigart is studying for the Diocese of Wichita and is completing his first year of theology.

I encourage you to pray for these candidates and for the openness of others to consider a vocation to the priesthood and religious life.

This weekend we begin the first of several RE confirmations. The candidates have worked so hard to prepare for this important moment in their spiritual lives. I have really enjoyed reading letters they have written about what they have done, why they want to be confirmed, the name and sponsor they have chosen. Elizabeth Steiger has participated in a program that invites 8th graders to mentor 6th graders and help them with their homework. She also collected winter coats and created Valentine's Day cards for nursing home residents. These were such awesome projects. Mary Kate Auer chose her cousin Jaclyn Russell to be her sponsor because she has been a lifelong influence on her. Her sponsor is a Special Ed teacher and Mary Kate wants to be teacher some day like her sponsor. What a compliment!

This time of year is the annual Candy Days to support the mission of Misericordia which cares for children and adults that live with intellectual and developmental disabilities. There are often volunteers at the intersection of Waukegan and Lake collecting donations. Because of Covid this year's Candy Days will be virtual. Just go to their website to make a donation (https://www.misericordia.com/).

This Tuesday, OLPH is hosting a novena to St. Catherine of Siena for healing and atonement for the clergy sexual abuse crises that has so deeply wounded the Church. There is information on the website and in the Bulletin, including information to attend the service in-person. This novena will also be livestreamed and available for viewing on the home page of our website. We must hold in our hearts all survivors of sexual abuse.

Thoughts on the

Sunday Scriptures

In today's Gospel reading we hear Jesus referring to himself as "the good shepherd."

His sheep know him, trust him, listen to him and follow him; having faith that no harm will come to them as long as they stay close to him.

We reaffirmed our faith in Christ when we renewed our baptismal promises at Easter.

As stewards of our relationship with Jesus Christ, are we willing to listen to Jesus, follow him, trust him?

Special thanks to the Parish Finance Council under the leadership of Bob Michals for approving our parish and school budget for fiscal 2022. These are challenging times to attempt to put a budget together. With the great support of you the parishioners, the mission of OLPH continues! Also, thanks to our Director of Finances and Operations, Mary Lynne Januszewski for the great job of preparing her first OLPH budget.

Laura Kearney

I speak for all of us in thanking Laura Kearney, our Parish Office Manager for her years of service. Laura will be retiring at the end of May. She has given her heart and soul to OLPH. She cannot wait to be a full time Grandmother! Thank you, Laura.

May your week be blessed!

Creation Care Ministry

OLPH, Spring is now upon us and you can help care for God's creatures. As Part II of an earlier article, the Creation Care Ministry is sharing a few things that you and your family can do this Spring and Summer in the spirit of "Laudato Si." Please read and share this with your children as by their nature, they love to protect God's creatures!

These tips come from the National Audubon Society.

1. Become a scientist

Everyday bird observations provide crucial data for scientists studying the big and small questions about bird lives, from migration to the effects of global climate change.

You can help by becoming a citizen scientist, observing and noting the kinds of birds you see.

- Join the Great Backyard Bird Count (https://www.birdcount.org/). In 2012 it tallied 17.4 million observations and 623 species, including an influx of snowy owls from the Arctic.
- Sign up on the Audubon website for a Christmas Bird Count (https://www.audubon.org/birds), or enlist in a new effort to track hummingbirds. Visit https://www.audubon.org for more.
- Track your sightings on eBird (https://ebird.org/home), a website developed by Audubon and the Cornell Lab of Ornithology. (https://www.birds.cornell.edu/home)

2. Create communities

Share your passion for birds with family and friends. Expand your patch of bird habitat into a larger urban oasis by working with neighbors and managers of nearby parks, golf courses, and farms. You will help restore habitat in linked corridors, multiplying the effectiveness of each patch. Restoring bird habitat can also help mitigate a city's "heat island effect," absorb stormwater runoff, and combat the spread of invasive plants.

Consider a program like Bird CityWisconsin (https://birdcitywisconsin.org/). Join the program or start your own! In Wisconsin, Milwaukee Audubon (https://www.milwaukeeaudubon.org/) helped launch this program. it was modeled, in part, on the Arbor Day Foundation's Tree City USA program. (https://www.arborday.org/programs/treeCityUSA/) Sixty Wisconsin communities have been recognized as "Bird Cities" so far for habitat protection and forest management.

Maybe we can do this for Glenview!

3. Shop for the birds

Buy grassland-bird-friendly hamburgers. Conventionally produced beef comes from animals fed corn and soybeans, crops grown on what used to be the great American prairie. Buying grass-fed meat supports grassland birds, which, because of habitat loss, are showing the most sustained declines of any bird group in the United States. Switch to shade-grown coffee. Each cup preserves roughly two square feet of rainforest.

Even lumber can be bird-friendly; woodlands certified by the Forest Stewardship Council (https://us.fsc.org/en-us) aim to conserve biological diversity by protecting old-growth stands, monitoring clear-cutting, and limiting pesticide use.

4. Save energy, cut carbon emissions

Leaving your car at home twice a week—and walking or biking instead—can reduce your emissions by two tons a year (and it's healthy for you, too). Make conservation a family challenge. Keep a journal and award points for conservation activities, including miles walked, biked, or covered on mass transit instead of driving; each time lights are turned off when I leaving the room; and unplugging electronic devices overnight.

5. Part with plastics

The first plastic bags were produced in 1957, according to Worldwatch Institute, and we now throw away 100 billion a year. Many eventually wash into the ocean to join oceanic garbage patches, drifting gyres of trash that spread over huge sea areas.

Every year the floating "bladders" of these bags kill hundreds of thousands of seabirds—along with sea turtles and marine mammals—which mistake them for jellyfish and squid, and then starve to death after filling their guts with plastic.

Using less plastic also saves energy and, thus, bird habitat. Plastic is made from petroleum and requires energy—more fossil fuels—to go from oil to consumer good.

6. Curb your cats

Keep your felines inside or in outdoor "kitty condos." America's estimated 150 million outdoor cats kill serious numbers of birds—up to 3.7 billion a year, according to a new report from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Smithsonian's Migratory Bird Center.

Tiny radio transmitters affixed to gray catbird nestlings in the Washington, D.C., suburbs by scientists from the Smithsonian Institution and Towson University showed that predators killed about 80 percent of those birds after they fledged (more than was sustainable) and that cats were responsible for nearly half those deaths. House cats in the study by University of Georgia and National Geographic Society researchers carried tiny videocameras. The footage shocked the cats' owners, revealing 44 percent of their pets were cutthroats; those cats averaged one kill every 17 hours outdoors.

7. Adopt-a-species

Pick a bird species from your flyway (choose from a list at audm.ag/AudPlan). Become an advocate for that species: work to protect and restore its habitat, educate your community, talk with schoolkids, or volunteer at a preserve or nature center.

Learning about "your" species will enrich your connection with nature and give you a new understanding of the region where you live.

Let's take care of God's creatures OLPH!

You can also make a monetary donation directly to our sharing parishes so that they can purchase what is most needed in their pantries. Mail your donations to:

Chicago, IL 60649
Attn: Meisha Robinson

Sharing Room Remains on Shutdown

Please do not leave donations of food, clothing or other items outside the Sharing Room door. We are on total shutdown and there are no volunteers to work through these donations. Thank you.

Brown Bag Meals for the Homeless

Hungry, homeless people come to the rectory doors and visit the parish food pantries of our four sharing parishes daily in search of food. Our Sharing Parishes are often able to respond with brown lunch bags filled with non-perishable food. Sr. Paulanne also regularly distributes these bags to local needy. These easy-to-assemble bags are donated by OLPH individuals, families, and groups.

Consider making up a few or get a group together and make up even more. No quantity is too big or too small.

These bags filled with non-perishables are easy to assemble and should contain:

- Pre-packaged tuna salad or chicken salad with crackers
- Trail mix
- Peanut butter or cheese and crackers
- 100% juice in box or can
- Dried fruit
- Fruit cup or applesauce
- Plastic spoon and napkin

Optional:
- Candy
- Power bars
- Granola bars

"The different religions, based on their respect for each human person as a creature called to be a child of God, contribute significantly to building fraternity and defending justice in society."
Pope Francis

Please use larger sized lunch bags and double the bags for durability. Bags can be delivered to the Sharing Room on Sunday mornings or whenever volunteers are present. Contact Julie Cooper, 847-909-0661 for further information.

Clothing and Housewares Donations

Open Again: Glenview Community Church Resale Shop, New to You

The Sharing Room remains closed due to Covid. In the past, clothing donations we received were carefully sorted and most donated items were sent to agencies which serve the needy. Higher end items and items with tags were sent to the Glenview Community Church Resale Shop. This resale shop then gave Sr. Paulanne 50% of the proceeds from OLPH items they were able to sell. Items not sold were donated to Salvation Army. This resale shop sent the balance of their funds to charities which they support; all proceeds effectively benefitting charity.

While the Sharing Room remains closed, consider donating your new or very gently used, in trend, clean items to the Glenview Community Church Resale Shop, New to You, located at 1000 Elm St. They will be open and accepting donations on Wednesdays Fridays and Saturdays between 9 and 1 and on Thursdays from 9 – 5. Please mark your donations OLPH, so that Sr. Paulanne will receive 50% of proceeds for her work with the needy. Wear a mask and observe social distancing during donation drop off or shopping.

Chrome Books Needed

Our Lady of Tepeyac's Religious Education program is in need of Chrome Books. Contact Betty Collins, collinsjustbetty@gmail.com, if you have one to donate.

Sunshine for Seniors!

6th grade religion classes created umbrellas for the seniors at Belmont Village. They designed and painted them to bring some cheer to their home. Other grade levels at school have made cards, wrote limericks, and crafted flowers to bring some joy to seniors during these Covid spring days. OLPH School students live our mission daily through service to others!

Drive-In Mass Update: Safety Issues IMPORTANT!

To improve the flow of our Drive-In Mass, we recently changed the way we deliver communion. Instead of having priests and Eucharistic Ministers walk to each car to give the eucharist to parishioners, we have instead been giving communion to cars as they leave the parking lot.

This has led to a potentially dangerous situation. When there are priests/ministers on both sides of the car, drivers tend to drive away as soon as they receive communion, forgetting that on the passenger side, there may be a priest/minister who is still in the process of gving out the eucharist to the rest of the people in the car.

This has almost resulted in having our priests dragged along and almost run over.

To all drivers, please:

1) Be mindful of priests/ministers on both sides of the car.

2) Put the car in PARK while receiving communion.

3) Check to make sure everyone in the car has finished receiving communion and be especially aware of anyone receiving communion in the back seat.

4) Look and see that the priest/minister has stepped back and away from your car before putting your car back in gear.

5) Only then, proceed forward and exit the parking lot.

We are always trying to create the best experience possible for parishioners attending our Drive-In Mass and all of our liturgies. Safety is the first and most important priority for everything we do. Adhering to strict safety measures makes everything we do possible.

Thank you for helping to ensure the safety of our priests, staff, and volunteers.

Make sure to register for the Drive-In Mass on Sign-Up Genius and tune your radio to 95.7 FM.

WHY IS IT
A man wakes up after sleeping
under an ADVERTISED blanket
on an ADVERTISED mattress and pulls off ADVERTISED pajamas bathes in an ADVERTISED shower
shaves with an ADVERTISED razor
brushes his teeth
with ADVERTISED toothpaste
washes with ADVERTISED soap puts on ADVERTISED clothes drinks a cup of ADVERTISED coffee
drives to work
in an ADVERTISED car and then . . . .
refuses to ADVERTISE
believing it doesn't pay.
Later if business is poor
he ADVERTISES it for sale.
