seek, share, rejoice - pastor's letter...

Jerry Boland, Pastor

Dear Parishioners,

"I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me will never hunger."

We will, for the next several weeks, be exploring verses from the 6th chapter of the Gospel of John. These verses comprise what is know as the "Bread of Life Discourses" and provide us with Our Lord's most comprehensive teachings on the Eucharist.

This week we reflect on the hungers that drive us. We have physical hunger, we hunger for affection and love, we hunger for a life of meaning and purpose, we hunger for justice. The Eucharist, 'the bread of life', feeds us on a far deeper level than our physical need to be fed.

Many prominent studies and surveys in recent years reveal that a significant number of Catholics do not accept or understand the nature of the Eucharist; its purpose, its meaning, its gift. When the bread is broken, and the cup is shared we acknowledge our communion with the Lord and with the community of believers.

We are in desperate need of a new evangelization of proclaiming the power and gift of the Eucharist. During the long months of the pandemic, we yearned to receive the Eucharist because most of us could only participate in the Mass virtually. Jesus, the bread of life feeds us with his love, his mercy, and his encouragement. As we reflect on the blessed gift of the "bread of life" in the coming weeks, may we deepen our love and gratitude for this gift.

We have several events to prepare for as August unfolds.

On Sunday, Aug. 15, we celebrate the Feast of the Assumption. We will be dedicating our beautiful statue of the Blessed Mother, in the Hellerman Garden after the 9:00 mass. The Garden and the Statue have been two great blessings bestowed upon us. They are a generational gift as we recently marked the 100th Anniversary of the founding of our parish. As we dedicate the statue, we praise God for this sacred space. I can't tell you how many people were comforted by visiting the garden and praying during this pandemic time. We want to acknowledge the benefactors that made the whole project possible.

On Aug. 31, we will be joining our friends from Sts. Peter and Paul Greek Orthodox Church to celebrate our annual gathering to mark the World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation. We will be celebrating the efforts of the Ecumenical Patriarch, Bartholomew and Pope Francis. We will be marking the 7th Anniversary of the publication of Pope Francis' historic encyclical, Laudato Si. Cardinal Cupich will be presiding, and he will be joined by Bishop Timothy, the chancellor of the Orthodox Archdiocese of North America.

I would like to call your attention to the Community Solar Project here in Glenview. If you download the Village of Glenview website and scroll down to "Community Solar" you can get a great description and overview of the community solar project here in Glenview. Solar energy reduces our dependance on fossil fuels and provides a realistic and affordable way to be part of caring for creation. I want to support this effort and in the coming months look to ways our parish could participate in solar energy. It is well worth considering.

Don't tell anyone but Aug. 6 is Fr. Barrett's 75th birthday!

Many of you know Msgr. Ken Velo. He will be presiding at the 9:00 and 10:30 am Masses on Aug. 8.

Check out the pictures from our recent Totus Tuus program. Thanks to Margaret Waldron, the missionaries and adult volunteers. It was the best! Special thanks to the adults who helped to keep the kids safe as we followed the special COVID protocols regarding masks. We did great!

Last week's Men's Club Kickoff Party was awesome. I was so honored to be included with the other awardees. What a parish!

Have a blessed week!

Did you know about: CHRISTIAN SYMBOLS

In our July 4, 2021 Bulletin, Mark Mitchell wrote an excellent article about our priest's chalices. At that time, Fr. Larry Basbas was still using a temporary chalice. Now Fr. Larry's chalice has arrived - and it is beautiful. It is adorned with rich and wonderful ancient Christian symbols. Check out Mark's follow up article below where he discusses these and other symbols and their origins.

Photo from Top: Fr. Basbas' chalice; Peacocks on the altar at St. Giles Church in Oak Park; Early Christian fish symbol

Fr. Larry's new chalice has three animals on it – the Lamb of God, and two peacocks. The lamb is familiar to anyone who attends Mass; it originates with the sacrificial lamb of Passover in the Book of Exodus, which Jesus replaced with his own sacrifice on the Cross. But the peacocks are probably not familiar, even though they are an ancient Christian symbol.

"One of my favorite churches in the archdiocese is St. Giles in Oak Park, and on the altar there is the image of two peacocks drinking from the fountain of life – so I wanted a similar image on my chalice," explains Fr. Larry. In the ancient world, it was believed that the flesh of the peacock did not decompose after death. Hence, it became a symbol of immortality brought by the Resurrection, and its beauty was a symbol of the glories of heaven.

Many other ancient symbols are familiar, though their meaning might be a bit puzzling. The fish is a symbol of Jesus because the Greek word for fish is Icthys – ΙΧΘΥΣ – the first letters of which stand for Ἰησοῦς - Χριστός - Θεοῦ - Υἱός - Σωτήρ. This translates as "Jesus Christ God Son Savior." When most of the population could not read or write, and when Christians were persecuted and had to hide their religious beliefs, the drawing of the fish was a simple way to depict their belief in Jesus.

The pelican is often carved on the front of altars. In the coastal areas of the Mediterranean where pelicans abounded, fishermen noticed that a mother bird would stab her sharp beak into her own breast so that her chicks could drink her blood, if she could not find food for them. This came to symbolize the sacrifice of Jesus shedding his blood on the Cross.

The sunflower is a symbol of Christian faith, because the sunflower turns its face to follow the sun throughout the day, just as the soul turns to follow God. The anchor is a symbol of Christian hope, because an anchor makes a boat sit safely in the water. In his Letter to the Hebrews, Saint Paul writes, "We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure." The anchor also resembles a cross, so it could be used when Christians were persecuted, as a secret designation for a friendly house.

The Chi-Rho are the first two letters of the name of Christ in Greek - ΧΡΙΣΤΟΣ. The ΙΗΣ are the first three letters of the name of Jesus in Greek – ΙΗΣΟΥΣ. It is the symbol of the Jesuits who are formally known as the Society of Jesus. It is therefore seen on Pope Francis' stemma, his coat of arms.

Saint John Paul II had the letter M on his stemma, which symbolized Mary standing at the foot of the Cross. Other symbols of Mary include the lily, for purity, which is also drawn as an iris or a Fleur de Lis; the mystical rose, drawn with four petals to symbolize her participation with the Holy Trinity; the star, because Mary is known as both the Morning Star and the Star of the Sea, which shine brightest in the night and guide travelers through life; and the crescent moon which symbolizes her immaculate conception and her transcendence over time and space. Some of the more obscure symbols for Mary are found in the Litany of Loreto and are occasionally depicted in churches: Tower of Ivory, House of Gold, Gate of Heaven, Mirror of Justice, and Seat of Wisdom.

But getting back to birds…the most unusual symbolic addition to many paintings of the Blessed Mother holding the Baby Jesus, is the goldfinch. Often the bird is perched on Mary's finger, or Jesus is playing with it. Because of its color, the goldfinch has long been associated with a ray of light, and therefore a symbol of hope in darkness or, to the Greeks, the power of healing. The red on the goldfinch's face was acquired, according to legend, when the birds tried to take the Crown of Thorns from Jesus' bleeding head. And the goldfinch eats thistles, both a symbol of the Crown of Thorns and an ingredient in medieval curative potions – another sign of the healing power of the goldfinch, and therefore a bird worthy of being included with Jesus and Mary.

Sharing Resource Center Reopening

Discussions are taking place as to when and how we will be reopening our Sharing Resource Center (formerly called the Sharing Room). We are busy investigating the needs of the organizations we serve and assessing our own volunteer capacity in considering changes we might be making.

At this point, we anticipate opening in the fall for food only, with clothing and housewares being selectively accepted some months after. Watch the Bulletin for further details.

Brown Bag Meals for the Homeless

Hungry, homeless people come to the rectory doors and visit the parish food pantries of our four sharing parishes daily in search of food. Our Sharing Parishes are often able to respond with brown lunch bags filled with non-perishable food. Sr. Paulanne also regularly distributes these bags to local needy. These easy-to-assemble bags are donated by OLPH individuals, families, and groups. Consider making up a few or get a group together and make up even more.

No quantity is too big or too small. These bags filled with non-perishables are easy to assemble and should contain:

- Pre-packaged tuna salad or chicken salad with crackers
- Trail mix
- Peanut butter or cheese and crackers
- 100% juice in box or can
- Dried fruit
- Fruit cup or applesauce
- Plastic spoon and napkin

Optional:

- Candy, Power bars, Granola bars

Please use larger sized lunch bags and double the bags for durability. Contact Julie Cooper, 847-909-0661 for more info.

Dir. of Communications Terry Luc and Fr. Jerry Boland with our Silver Trumpet Award.

Back in June, we found out that we were awarded a 2021 Silver Trumpet from the Publicity Club of Chicago for our organization's 'Response to COVID'. The actual award just arrived!

It is an honor to be a part of this team, led by our Pastor, Fr. Jeremiah Boland. Of course, the work never stops and we must keep finding new ways to adapt to this new world, but it is nice to be recognized for what we have accomplished to this point.

The Golden Trumpets Awards program honors distinguished individual achievement of public relations and communications.

Clothing and Housewares Donations

Glenview Community Church Resale Shop, New to You

The Sharing Room remains closed due to Covid. In the past, clothing donations we received were carefully sorted and most donated items were sent to agencies which serve the needy. Higher end items and items with tags were sent to the Glenview Community Church Resale Shop , New to You. This resale shop then gave Sr. Paulanne 50% of the proceeds from OLPH items they were able to sell. They will be accepting donations through August 16 on Mondays from 10:00 to noon, and then again upon reopening from August 25 on, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays between 9 and 1 and on Thursdays from 9 – 5.

Please mark your donations OLPH, so that Sr. Paulanne will receive 50% of proceeds for her work with the needy.

Come Away to the Quiet

BELLARMINE
Jesuit Retreat House

We cannot find God in noise and agitation. Nature: trees, flowers, and grass grow in silence. The stars, the moon, and the sun move in silence. What is essential is not what we say but what God tells us and what He tells others through us. In silence He listens to us; in silence, He speaks to our souls. In silence, we are granted the privilege of listening to His voice.

Silence of our eyes.
Silence of our ears.
Silence of our mouths.
Silence of our minds.
…in the silence of the heart God will speak.

brushes his teeth
with ADVERTISED toothpaste

of ADVERTISED coffee
