seek, share, rejoice - pastor's letter...

Jerry Boland, Pastor

Thoughts on the

Sunday Scriptures

In today's second reading we listen to one of the most compelling exhortations for Christian living: "Whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him" (Col 3:17). "Whatever you do"---that means the whole of life is to be related to Christ Jesus.

Everything in life, every activity, can become an act of glorifying the Lord. Good stewards commit even their daily routine to Christ: doing everything "in the name of the Lord."

Perhaps it would be a good idea this week to memorize this marvelous verse and repeat it to yourself frequently. Make it part of your morning prayer each day.

Dear Parishioners,

"Brothers and Sisters: Put on, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, and patience, bearing with one another and forgiving one another. Over all of this put on love."

In the midst of the Christmas Season, this Sunday after Christmas celebrates the Feast of the Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph.

For many of us this is a profound moment of reflection. We not only contemplate the Holy Family, we also are invited by the scriptures to reflect on our own family.

When we gaze upon paintings of the Holy Family or perhaps the nativity set we have at home, we can sometimes fail to appreciate that life for the Holy Family was far from perfect. While we may have not encountered some of their challenges; Mary was with child before they were married, and they were, for all intents and purposes, homeless at the time of his birth. They had to flee their native land as refugees because of the threats to Jesus's life; every family has challenges.

Archbishop Gregory celebrating our Outdoor Mass on September 7.

Family life has its difficulties and blessings. While we know very little about Jesus' childhood and teen years, when they returned to Nazareth, "the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom and the favor of God was upon him."

I love the opening words I quoted above from this weekend's second reading. I think we all should make a copy of it and tape it to our refrigerators so everyone can see it when they are in the kitchen. There are many stresses on family life that can be intensified over the holidays. College kids might find some of their freedoms on the college campus, need to be dialed back a bit at home. Visiting relatives and friends can add another level of stress for everyone. Dealing with all the expectations that surround the holidays can be unrealistic and result in some disappointment.

Cardinal Cupich celebrating our Centennial Mass on September 14.

The reading from St. Paul encourages us! We need to put on the power of Christ's love. This grace can lead to patience, mercy and forgiveness. The anger of the moment, the impatience that can seize us, the painful words said in the moment of an argument can be released to the merciful love of Christ. We can cherish one another, we can sometimes look the other way, or we can choose not to "go to battle."

When all is said and done, our families matter. We carry in our hearts the memories of family life. The season of Christmas can evoke many memories. Please take the time if you can to pray for your family and find concrete ways to "put on love."

Cherie DiCesare

As the year draws to a close, I find my mind filled with many images that hearken to this past year as a parish family. There were extraordinary moments like our celebrations with Archbishop Gregory and Cardinal Cupich to launch our Centennial Year. There were moments when we encountered grief like the death of Cherie DiCesare our Director of Religious Education. There were privileged moments of celebrating, Baptisms, First Communions, Confirmations, and Weddings. There was the tremendous commitment of legions of people to bring the Eucharist to the homebound, bring food to the hungry, to add to our worship and to deepen faith from CRHP weekends to scripture study.

This past year was filled with all sorts of ways we together "put on Christ." I take the invitation of Paul's letter to "seek forgiveness" very seriously. In the course of a year, like in your family, on the larger parish scale, feelings get hurt, misunderstandings happen, differences in opinion on important issues can lead to alienation. Please forgive me if I have caused you pain. Let's together seek many opportunities in 2020 to: "bear with one another, forgive one another"and together let us "put on Christ".

It is a blessing to serve as your pastor.

Happy New Year!

Rev. Jerry Boland

100 Hours of Mercy Program

"You Did It to Me" Virtual Retreat

"I was Naked and You Clothed Me"

"I was Sick and You Visited Me"

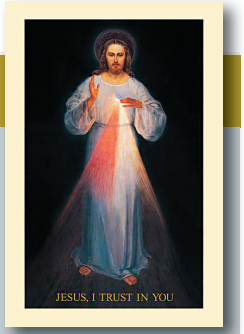

Image of Divine Mercy

Friends, we took a break during the height of the Christmas Season to regain our stillness amidst all the busyness at our very active parish. Now let's continue. Our retreat leader, Fr. Gaitley, is giving us different ways to think about mercy this week. Some of them are quite challenging. Are you keeping an open mind and heart? Consider doing your reading in the Lady Chapel or in the Adoration Chapel at St. Catherine Labouré (24/7) to discern where Jesus is leading you. God is working within each of us at this very moment!

Chapter 3: "I was Naked and You Clothed Me"

- Employ "common-sense mercy" by donating clothing and shoes you don't need; donate an item you really like to let someone else experience the joy it has given you; consider establishing a shopping rule such as, for every item you buy, two items must be donated.
- What are other forms of "nakedness" that give us opportunities for works of mercy?
  - Lack of modesty: Are we dressing (at church, around children and teens, in work and social places) in a way that is respectful, dignified, and sets a good example? Do we teach our kids about the importance of modesty in dress for their own respect and others', and for reverence to God?
  - Absence of virtue: Spiritually "clothe" your ignorance and those you love with virtue—compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness, patience and love—through gentle instruction using Catholic tools (scripture, spiritual pamphlets, CDs, and books). Are we sharing the gifts of our Catholic faith (examination of conscience, reconciliation, anointing of the sick) with friends and family who are struggling?
  - Weak faith life: Combat doubt, discouragement, and despair by "clothing" them in truth, beauty, and goodness. Do we allow Jesus to love others—those who have turned their back on him—by looking at them lovingly and without judgment?

    Do we understand and share the gift of the Image of Divine Mercy, which depicts Jesus coming toward us with an ocean of mercy pouring from his Heart? The Image and Chaplet of Divine Mercy are special gifts for our time that build trust in a soul, and the more a soul trusts, the more a soul receives.

Chapter 4: "I was Sick and You Visited Me"

- A really BIG challenge: It's not always easy to be around those who are suffering. Are we able to put our fears and biases aside to see the sick person as Christ? (If not, pray to St. Teresa of Calcutta to help you see the face of Christ in the sick and aging.)
- The sick provoke mercy: St. Pope John Paul II said, "In the weakness of the sick, I saw emerging a new strength—the strength of mercy. By their illness and suffering they call forth acts of mercy and create the possibility for accomplishing them."
- What are other forms of "sickness" that call forth acts of mercy?
  - Addiction, depression, extreme anxiety, old age?
  - Instead of judging or avoiding sick people, can we imagine how their weaknesses might actually make them very close to God? Can we also see the valuable opportunity God is giving us through their affliction and suffering to be Christ to one of his littlest lambs?
- Suffering has value and can bear great fruit for the kingdom: Encourage the sick to embrace their suffering by joining it to the perfect and acceptable sacrifice of Christ on the Cross. Are we aware of the great grace that flows from offering suffering for the salvation of souls?

Mercy Action Items

- Review checklists on pages 70-4 and 81-2; these can be done in Act, Word, and Prayer
- What are you able to do right now? In the near future? What are you already doing?
- What seems impossible for you to do?
- What do you sense Jesus is asking of you? Is he asking you to do The Impossible?
- Spend some silent time with Jesus this week praying for courage, patience, and understanding. Trust that he will show you the way when the time is right—in God's own time.

Want to learn more about the Image of Divine Mercy or the Chaplet? Come to the Lady Chapel any Friday for Divine Mercy Holy Hour from 3-4 pm. You can also read an overview of Divine Mercy at www.marian.org/whatwedo/whatisit.php. Or email Jen Farber at heartsafireolph@gmail.com.

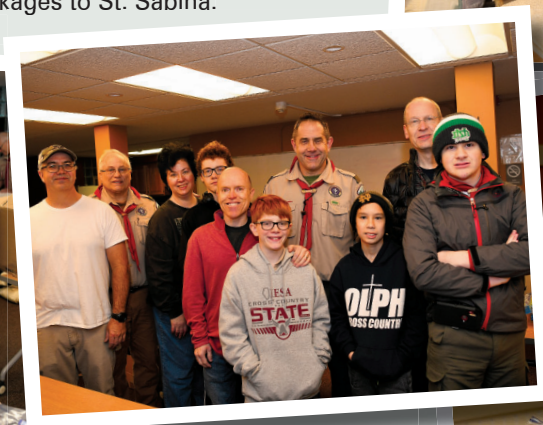
The Annual Boy Scout Troop 57 service project

OLPH Boy Scout Troop 57 prepared and delivered 200 packages for the homeless on Saturday, Dec. 14. The packages were donated to and distributed by Fr. Michael Pfleger of St. Sabina, one of the OLPH Sharing Parishes. The packages contain toiletries, soap, shampoo, lip balm, deodorant, combs, toothbrushes, toothpaste, towels, hats, and gloves. Additionally, the Troop provides notepads, pens and pencils for St. Sabina's school.

The Troop has been performing this service project for over 30 years and it would not be possible without the generous support of Dr. August Durso, the Garvey Family of Garvey Office Products, Sister Paulanne, and the Needy Family Fund. Additional support is provided by Ruth and Don Koziol, who help assemble the care packages components and Troop 57 Scout Master, John Baethke who organizes the volunteer Scouts and delivers the packages to St. Sabina.

Special thanks this year to Ben Tchaou who photographed the event and helped deliver the packages to St. Sabina.



Kairos Retreat

It is the time God's Holy Spirit awakens our young people to an alternative to what our culture teaches them. It is 3 days when they focus on the part of love in their lives.

Twice a year, we have a Kairos retreat. Normally we have 55 participants. There are 14 young leaders who have already participated in the retreat. They have undergone 6 months training in leadership skills, meeting every Sunday night for 2 hours, and they go away for a 3-day training session.

We also have 6 or 7 young adult leaders, as well as chaperones at night.

The next retreat is April 23-26.

Please ask for enrollment forms in parish center, and return immediately as it is filling up rapidly.

During the 12 Days of Christmas, the Church celebrates many important feasts. None, however, is as important as the feast celebrated on the octave (8th day) of Christmas, January 1: the Solemnity of Mary, the Mother of God. In fact, the church regards it as so important that it is a Holy Day of Obligation. On this day, we are reminded of the role Mary played in the plan of our salvation with her Fiat, her "yes" to God.

One of the earliest titles given to the Blessed Virgin was Theotokos, meaning "God-bearer." We celebrate her as the Mother of God, because, in bearing Christ, she bore the fullness of the Godhead within her. As we begin another year, let's draw inspiration from the selfless love of the Theotokos, who never hesitated to do the will of God. And let's trust in her prayers to God for us, that we might become more like her.

O Mary, Mother of God, pray for us!

End of the Year Giving

Did you know that making a donation to OLPH before 12/31/19 may help lower your tax bill?

Money from an individual retirement account (IRA) can be donated to OLPH. Normally, a distribution from a traditional IRA incurs taxes since the account holder didn't pay taxes on the money when they put it into the IRA. But account holders 70 ½ or older who make a contribution directly from a traditional IRA to a qualified charity (OLPH) can donate up to $100,000 without it being a taxable distribution. The deduction effectively lowers the donor's adjusted gross income. (AGI).

To avoid paying taxes on the donation, the donor must follow the IRS rules for qualified charitable distributions (QCDs). The donation can also help meet all or part of the IRA's required minimum distribution (RMD) for the year. Owners of traditional IRAs must start taking RMDs at age 70 ½ or face tax penalties. Roth IRAs do not require distributions while the account holder is alive.

OLPH must receive the donation by December 31 for the amount to be applied to your 2019 tax return.

QCDs are a good choice for individuals who otherwise could not deduct all or part of their charitable donations because of the IRS rule prohibiting a deduction for donation amounts that exceed 60% of a taxpayer's AGI. This rule might appear to affect only wealthy taxpayers who give generously, but it also affects anyone retired with little to no income who still wants to make a deductible donation.

Another way to donate assets is through an estate after the donor's death by naming the qualified charity (OLPH) as the designated beneficiary of the IRA. OLPH will receive whatever percentage of assets the account holder provides on the beneficiary form. Distributions from SIMPLE IRAs are ineligible to be QCDs.

Using an IRA to make a charitable distribution can help lower a tax bill and help a worthy cause (OLPH). Distributions must be made directly to OLPH, not to the owner or beneficiary. All distribution checks need to be made payable to OLPH or they will be counted as taxable distributions.
